WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

SING SING.

The sixty-second annual session of the New-York and Hudson River Camp Meeting Association began yesterday at Sing Sing Heights. The Rev. Dr. C. E. Miller, assisted by the Rev. A. C. Morehouse and the members of the Board of Trustees, is in charge. The Rev. Thomas Harrison and Mrs. Elizabeth Van Cott will be present during the meeting, which will last ten days. Regular services will be held at 6, 8 and 10:30 a. m., and 2 and 7:39 p. m. There will be special services on Sunday. The Broadway Mis-sion will be closed during the camp-meeting season. It will reopen on August 22 with special services.

The Misses Clara Underhill, Marjolle Herrman, Ollie Bartlett, Jessie Carpenter, Mabel Sterling and india Cromwell gave a lawn party at the home of Hiram Paulding yesterday, and realized $71 for the . . The women in charge of the outdoor festival in aid of the House of Nazareth, on Broadway, reports the net proceeds at $575.

A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday in the case of Joseph Hamburg, who was killed at the Bloomingdale Asylum Building Thursday afternoon by falling from an elevator. Princeton (N. J.) friends took charge of the body.

PURCHASE.

Ex-Captain William H. Clinchy, of the New-York police force, will give a lawn party on his farm on the afternoon and evening of August 23, in aid of the Purchase Methodist Episcopai Church. Captain is leading a retired life on his Rye Lake property, but materially assists the younger people of his neighborhood in obtaining funds for church

NEW-JERSEY.

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A BUSINESS MAN. During the investigation by the State Board of Arbitration yesterday into the trouble at the L. Boyden Shoe Company's factory, John Lannon, an employe, testified that Mr. Overman, a member the firm had told him the night previous that he would see the reporters of the local papers and tell them that the men were all satisfied. He mentioned the names of eight other men whom Mr. Overman had seen and talked to.

Mr. Overman sprang to his feet when this state ment was made, and, interrupting the witness, said: "Do you mean to say that I am a liar, or that I called a meeting of the men yesterday?"

The witness said he had made no such remark. His testimony was corroborated by two other wites, whereupon Mr. Overman said the matter

Secretary Skeflington then said: "Mr. Overman comes here before this board and wilfully percomes here before this board and winding per-jures himself to gain his own end." Mr. Over-man denied the charge, and called a witness to prove his end of the story, but the witness cor-roborated the story of the previous witnesses.

Ex-Alderman Francis H. Coyle, of Harrison, who was locked up on Alderman John Wade's charge of highway robbery and assault and battery, and is now out on bail, has instructed his lawyer, William M. Brown, to bring a suit against Wade for $20,000 damages for defamation of character. The men are Democratic politicians.

In the second trial of Alexander S. Letts, a clerk in the Pennsylvania freight house at Jersey City, for defrauding the company of $23,000, the State closed yesterday, introducing a new witness, Scott Jackson, who has, since the first trial, been in-dicted for complicity in the same frauds. Jackson admitted that he had been concerned in the frauds to the extent of concealing them. Letts was to pay to the extent of concealing them. Letts was to pay him for his silence, but he never did so. He further testified that he had loaned & Letts $2,700. When asked what pay he received he said $65 a month. On cross-examination he said his father had left him $3,300. He also testified that Letts told him he had mutilated the company's books so that nothing could be proved against him. His confidence was the result of the failure of a plot concocted with Sidney Backus, another clerk to steal all the books of the department, which failed because Backus gave information to the company. The defence will begin its testimony this morning.

HACKENSACK.

The people of Hackensack were startled yesterday to learn that Captain Katle Tilghe, in charge of the Salvation Army barracks, -was destitute and nearly starving. Captain Tilghe is a widow with one child, and occupied a room over ocery store in lower Main-st. She has been in Hackensack three or four months, and conducted services in the hall in Warren-st she was subject to great annoyance and insult from the young "toughs" of the place. As Captain Tilghe did not appear at the hall during the last three days or nights, inquiry led to the discovery that she was ill and without food.

The wife of Assessor Fernando Vreeland, with

Mrs. Christie and other women, at once took active measures to relieve the wants of the suffering woman and child. Mr. Christie said he knew that Captain Tilghe was without means, and that that tapplied her with groceries from time to time without expecting pay, but he did not know that she was in such extreme destitution.

Captain Tilghe was too diffident to make her distress known. Her greatest concern recently has been to raise sufficient money to pay the hall rent.

NEW-BRUNSWICK. Chief-Justice Beasley, of the New-Jersey Su

preme Court, on Wednesday appointed J. Bayard Kirkpatrick, Willard P. Voorhees and Isaac S. Snedeker, of MiddlesexCounty, commissioners to condemn Florida Grove, a resort on the Raritan River, near South Amboy. The appointment was made through the application of the Central Railread Company, which proposes to make connec-tions between its lines at Bound Brook and Perth

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS AT A POWER-HOUSE. John H. Nickels, of No. 546 First-ave., was driving a truck past the power-house of the Broadway cable road at Houston-st. soon after noon yesterday when somebody threw a piece of iron pipe out of a fourth story window. The missile struck Nickels a glancing blow on the forchead and knocked him off the truck to the pavement. If it had hit him squarely on the head his brains would have been dashed out. As it was, he received a severe flesh wound, and when he recovered his senses he inquired feebly who had hit him.

A stranger in the street said he had seen the man who had thrown the pipe out of the window. He accompanied a policeman into the power-house, and pointed out a man who said he was Richard Dalton and had come to the building from a place downtown after Nickels was hurt. after Nickels was hurt.

After an ambulance surgeon had dressed Nickels's wound, the policeman took the injured man and Dalton to the Jefferson Market Police Cours. Dalton proved there that he was not in the building at the time of the accident, and was discharged.
